EVERETT, MASS.

IN MEMORIAM

Vera I. Leland
1901 - 1933

THE CLASS OF 1934 REVERENTLY DEDICATES ITS YEARBOOK TO HER WHOSE FIRM FAITH, CALM WISDOM, AND TENDER SYMPATHY SO OFTEN SUSTAINED AND CHEERED THOSE OF US WHO WERE PRIVILEGED TO KNOW HER AS A FRIEND.

"The rose still grows beyond the wall
Scattering fragrance far and wide.
Just as it did in days of yore,
Just as it did on the other side.
Just as it will forevermore.

VERA I. LELAND

IN THE NEXT YEAR YOU WILL BE TOLD OFTEN THAT YOU ARE GRADUATING INTO A COLD, HARD WORLD THAT HAS NO PLACE FOR YOU. YOU WILL BE INFORMED THAT A HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA DOES NOT MEAN WHAT IT DID MEAN IN THE "GOOD OLD DAYS." SIDEWALK PHILOSOPHERS WILL TRY TO CONVINCE YOU THAT YOU ARE EMBARKING ON A PROCESS OF GRADUAL STARVATION.

I HOPE YOU WILL LISTEN TO CALAMITY HOWLERS WITH ONLY ONE EAR. I HOPE YOU WILL USE THE OTHER TO HEAR THE CALL OF THE NEW OPPORTUNITIES WHICH ARE OPENING DAILY.

A PESSIMIST IS USUALLY BLIND AND DEAF.

MARTIN G. SANBORN.

MARTIN G. SANBORN, Principal

MY BEST WISHES FOR SUCCESS TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1934.

YOUR GRADUATION IS AN EVENTFUL DAY IN YOUR LIFE'S JOURNEY. IT HAS TAKEN YEARS TO REACH THIS POINT. TO MOST OF YOU GRADUATION WILL MEAN THE END OF YOUR FORMAL SCHOOL DAYS. EDUCATION, HOWEVER, IS NOT ENTIRELY A MATTER OF BOOKS; IN REALITY, YOUR EDUCATION HAS JUST BEGUN. THE WORLD AT LARGE HAS MUCH TO OFFER IF YOU WILL ONLY SEIZE ITS OPFORTUNITIES.

LET THE EXPERIENCE OF THE PAST, THE LIGHT OF THE PRESENT, TOGETHER WITH THE HOPE OF THE FUTURE, BE A CHALLENGE TO EACH OF YOU TO MOVE FOREVER ONWARD.

C. J. Thayer.

FOREWORD

WE OF 1934 WILL SOON PASS THROUGH THE HALLS OF EVERETT HIGH FOR THE LAST TIME AS A CLASS. WE ARE GLAD, HOWEVER, THAT IT HAS BEEN POSSIBLE FOR US TO PUBLISH A YEARBOOK WHICH WILL TRULY BE A LASTING MEMORY OF OUR ACHIEVEMENTS DURING OUR HIGH SCHOOL YEARS. IT IS OUR BELIEF THAT OUR RECORD OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS IS ONE OF WHICH WE MAY WELL BE PROUD AND ONE WHICH WE MAY RECALL WITH PLEASURE IN THE YEARS TO COME AS WE TURN THE PAGES OF "MEMORIES." IT IS THE SINCERE HOPE OF THE CLASS OF 1934 THAT THE CLASSES WHICH WILL FOLLOW US WILL CARRY ON FROM WHERE WE LEFT OFF.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1934

FRESHMAN

In September, 1930, the members of the class of '34 entered the high school as freshmen, hoping that after four years of hard work they might attain the coveted diploma which was to be our reward.

The homeroom presidents met early in October for their first meeting at which James Blake was elected president; Edward Little, vice president; Donald Lounsbury, secretary; William Cotter, treasurer. This group was very successful in handling the school affairs and received much favorable comment from Mr. Lytle, our principal.

Later in the year, David MacAllester was awarded a medal for winning the Prize Speaking Contest. This was the first contest of its kind for our class.

One of the most important events which took place in our freshman year was the awarding of letters to all those students who attained a credit rating in scholarship, a one (1) rating in citizenship, and a two (2) rating in athletics. This event was called Parlin Day. The Parlin Day Committee was composed of James Blake, Edward Little, Donald Lounsbury, William Cotter, and four students from the Parlin School on Broadway.

Later in June we went to the Everett High School and received a certificate which brought to a close our first year of hard work.

SOPHOMORE

In September, 1932, we began our first year in the Senior High School as sophomores.

First, we chose James Blake as our delegate to the School Council. Later, we elected Joseph Schwerdt to the Christmas Committee and William Cotter as a member of the Good Cheer Committee.

Our class not only showed ability in scholarship, but remarkable skill in athletics. We contributed Joseph Schwerdt and William Furness, two stellar players, to the football team, and Schwerdt also played on the "varsity" basketball five. Nancy Butler, Dorothy Breau, Catherine Coffey, Evelyn Holmes, Clara Kearney, Esther Connell, and Eleanor Legg gave a fine account of themselves on the girls' varsity five.

In the annual prize speaking contest, held early in the spring, our class was fortunate enough to have the winner of the boy's medal, David MacAllester, drawn from our ranks.

JUNIOR

In our second year at the Senior High we were able to maintain a much better reputation. We were not bothered by seniors any longer, and, instead, we treated the new sophomores as the seniors had treated us.

We met in the Rockwood Auditorium and elected for our leaders: Edward Little, president; James Blake, vice-president; William Cotter, secretary, and David MacAllester, treasurer.

Our football team which was as usual one of the best was well represented by many juniors. Among the most prominent were: Edward Little, William Furness, Arthur Raimo, Joseph Pini, John Rossetti, Peter Cavicchi, Joseph Schwerdt, Fred Walsh, and William Romano. Joseph Schwerdt was elected captain of the basketball quintet.

In basketball Dominic Pavone, Fred Walsh, Joseph Pini, John Rossetti, and Joseph Schwerdt were our contribution to that sport.

Our first social event was the Junior Prom. Our dance committee consisted of Edward Little, chairman; Tolbert McLaughlin, business manager; William Furness, assistant business manager; William Romano, publicity manager; William Cotter, secretary, and Dorothy Slaney, decorations. The general committee was composed of Margaret Steinmetz, Arexie Gostan, Lillian Cockcroft, Madelyn Kenny, Mario Bonanno, Paul Otterson, David MacAllester, Selma Reavy, Ella Larson, James Mellon, Eric Nylin, James Blake, Dorothy Slaney and Beatrice Alpert.

The affair was very successful and well attended.

The Lyceum Charity Dance drew a large crowd and the committee in charge of the affair had the following junior members: Stanton Brown, Tolbert McLaughlin, and David MacAllester.

The debating team won every debate and the most outstanding junior debaters were Stanton Brown, David MacAllester, Thomas Lancian and Tolbert McLaughlin.

The Girls' Glee Club, whose music we enjoyed at many an assembly, sponsored the musical comedy, "Pickles." Junior girls taking part were Marjorie Anderson, Dorothy Anderson, Louise Bond, Muriel Crocker, Lillian DePietro, Muriel Dillaway, Peggy Duncan, Gertrude Grassa, Madelyn Kenny, Cecilia Lyons, Lucy Manuel, Phyllis Maxcy, Emma North, Helen Wagner and Gertrude Wood.

The annual Lyceum Play entitled, "The Champion," was one of the most successful plays put on by the Lyceum. The following juniors took part: David MacAllester, Stanton Brown, Thomas Lancian, and Tolbert McLaughlin.

The Spanish Club enjoyed a successful season and the junior officers of the club were: William Romano, president; William Cotter, secretary

On June 27, our junior year came to a successful close with everyone looking foward to September and our final year at E. H. S.

SENIOR

As seniors we were nearing the goal that we were striving for. We began immediately by electing for our class officers such capable leaders as Edward Little, president; Joseph Schwerdt, vice-president; William Cotter, secretary, and William Romano, treasurer. We chose Tolbert McLaughlin, Fred Chisholm and Arthur Raimo as our delegates to the Student Council, and William Furness was elected as chairman of the Christmas Committee.

At the first of the year all the senior home rooms elected a president. These students were to act as the senior advisory board and were to make all the decisions for the senior class. The members of the board were: William Cotter, Mary McGee, Ann Malcolm, Douglas Stiles, William Hussey, Edna Holden, Howard Lane, Herbert Lundberg, George Hoaglund, Richard Curley, William Furness, Joseph Schwerdt, and Tolbert McLaughlin. This body of students made decisions regarding graduation pictures, rings, the yearbook, and many other problems of the senior class.

The football team was well represented with seniors. Joe Pini was elected captain. He was assisted on the team by Edward Little, William Furness, James Mellon, Paul Otterson, Peter Cavicchi, Joseph Schwerdt, Arthur Raimo, William Romano, Thomas McLaughlin, Eugene McAdams, Fred Walsh, Harold Rosenburg, Herbert Lundberg and Thomas Lancian. Robert Perry was student manager of the team.

On the basketball team we had such players as Joseph Schwerdt, William Hussey, Stanton Brown and Norman Sheppard. John Durant was student manager of the basketball team.

The girls' basketball team also had many seniors in the line-up. Nancy Butler, Dorothy Breau, Catherine Coffey, Evelyn Holmes, Clara Kearney, Esther Conncll and Eleanor Legg.

The prize speaking contest was won by both senior contestants. Thomas Lancian for the boys and Helen Wagner for the girls. Thomas Lancian also won the audience prize. Lancian's ability in prize speaking was also in evidence early in May when he won first price in the Colby College All-New England Oratorical Contest, competing against ninety-eight representatives from the best high and prep schools.

The Senior Dance was our most important social affair and it was very successful. On the Senior Dance Committee were Edward Little, chairman; Tolbert McLaughlin, business manager; William Cotter, secretary; Ann Malcolm, decorations. The general committee was composed of Douglas Stiles, William Hussey, Mary McGee, Edna Holden, Howard Lane, Herbert Lundberg, Richard Curley, Joseph Schwerdt, William Romano, and William Furness.

The BROADCAST staff was made up mostly of seniors. Those seniors on the staff were Herman Kramer, editor-in-chief; William Cotter and Harold Katz, sport editors; Tolbert McLaughlin, business manager; William Romano, assistant business manager; Madelyn Kenny, exchange editor; and John Golden, art editor.

The Senior Class Play was the most successful in years and the members of its committee were Edward Little, William Hussey, William Romano, William Furness, Thomas McLaughlin, Mary McGee, Ann Malcolm, Arexie Gostan, William Cotter, Tolbert McLaughlin, Howard Lane, and Richard Curley. Thomas McLaughlin was appointed business manager. Miss Clapp and Miss Marshall coached the production which was entitled "Anybody's Game.". The members of the cast were Madelyn Kenny, Ann Malcolm, Helen Wagner, Thomas Lancian, Marion Lammers, Tolbert McLaughlin, Stanton Brown, Bruno Pierotti, John Golden and William Fioretti. Mr. Alden was faculty advisor.

The sad event of our senior year was the death of Miss Vera Leland, one of our best-liked teachers.

The Lyceum Dance drew a larger crowd than ever before and the proceeds were turned over to charity. The members of the committee were Tolbert McLaughlin, chairman; William Romano and Thomas Lancian.

Early in May the class met in the Auditorium and elected the following speakers for Class Day and Graduation: Class history, Helen Wagner and David MacAllester; class prophecy, Evelyn Holmes and Joseph Schwerdt; class will, Dorothy Anderson and Stanton Brown; address of welcome, Edward Little; class oration, Thomas Lancian; graduation opening address, Nancy Butler; closing address, Mary Mazzola.

Our four years are nearly over. We have Field Day, Class Day, and Graduation yet to come and then we shall march to the auditorium and receive as our reward our diplomas, which will signify that we have graduated from the Everett Senior High School after four years of hard labor.

THE HISTORY OF THE JUNIOR CLASS

Time Marches On!

The class of 1935 has been in Everett High for two years. Those two years seem very short as we look back on them.

Early in the fall we elected the following officers:

President ..... Gerald Johnson
Vice-President ..... Reginald Cunningham
Secretary ..... Daniel Doherty
School Council ..... James Cunningham, Phyllis Peavy and James Zelles

Our football men who helped put Everett High over the top were: Captain-elect Freeman, William Piscione, Jerry Johnson, John Yahoodik, Joe Ciccarelli, Nick Bellofatto, Walter Yetman, Ritchie Underwood, and Roy Anderson.

Bill Piscione was elected to the Christmas committee, that great institution for the distribution of Christmas baskets.

The "Broadcast" staff included several members from the class of '35. They were the following: Edwin Carolan, Caro Grace, Edith Goldman, Henry Richards, Robert Sanborn, and Charles Taylor.

The girls from the Junior class who helped the basketball team to complete the year undefeated were Annie Steene, Margy Swanson, Dorothea Whalen, and Marion Campana.

The outstanding Juniors in baseball were Nick Bellofatto, Richard Underwood, George McKinnon, and Ralph Freeman.

Bill Piscione, John Yahoodik, Bill Hussey, Ritchie Underwood, and Joe Ventura were the individual stars from the class of '35 on the track team.

A feature event of the year was the annual Junior Prom held in the High School gymnasium. The credit for the success of this affair may be given to Gerald Johnson, chairman; William Piscione, business manager; Edwin Carolan, Beth Whiteside, and Newell Trail.

We were proud to have a larger honor roll this year than in previous years. The honor students are Louis Castleman, Mary Frackleton, Helen Partello, Mae Collins, Edward Manoogian, Aleena Eisnor, Peter Sapienza, Edwin Carlson, Barbara Chase, and Warren Evans.

Almost before we realize it, we shall be taking over the dignities of Seniors for

Time Marches On!

EDITH GOLDMAN AND ROBERT SANBORN.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

We, the sophomore class, have occupied considerable space within the walls of Everett High School from September, 1933, to June, 1934. During this time we have contributed largely to the success of various student activities, especially in sports, where we have done more than our share in producing letter men and individual stars.

Sammie Gentile and Paul Quinn represented the class of '36 on the gridiron, and "Rusty" Opderbecke, Dana Walsh and Sammie Gentile were our representatives on the basketball court.

George Melling and John Uncles were elected to represent the class of '36 on the School Council, and Sammie Gentile was elected to the Christmas Committee.

In the prize speaking contest, we were represented by Albert Earle, Sadie Levovsky and Florence Harvey.

Anna DeVenuti, Marguerita DeVenuti, Sadie Levovsky and William Toomey were appointed to the Broadcast staff.

In the dramatic productions of the year, we had our share of stars. In the band show we were represented by Lloyd North, Walter Pearson, Leo Crovitz and Harold Oshry. The sophomores who participated in the annual Dramatic Class production were: John Uncles, Flora Morin, Arthur Johnston, Roy McGillivray, Lloyd North, and Edvige Morganto. In the Girls' Glee Club show, the members of the class of '36 who were members of the cast were: Elizabeth Ross, Doris Tabor, Esther Benton, Elaine Mulloy and Myrtle Goudey.

As well as being prominent in student affairs, the sophomore class had several members who were high in scholastic honors. Those who maintained an average of over ninety were: Celia Lanciani, Leila Turner and George Melling.

In addition to the honors already received by the class of '36 in sports, Sammie Gentile and Charley Trafton have been candidates for the baseball team, and we are sure that the sophomore class may add their names to the lists of sport champions.

We have enjoyed this year at the Everett High School, and we wish to express our thanks to the faculty for the opportunities we have received. We will return this fall when we will resume our studies as juniors. We are proud of our record of achievement, and we are sure that when we return as juniors, we can stamp an indelible mark upon the annals of the Everett High School.

WILLIAM J. TOOMEY, '36.

SCHOOL COUNCIL

This year the School Council organized as usual and made many suggestions to Mr. Sanborn concerning assemblies, traffic, bells and school sports.

Under the leadership of Miss Hines the School Council successfully inaugurated a new method of class elections.

THE BROADCAST

"The Broadcast", Everett High's official newspaper, recently completed its eleventh year of active service to E. H. S. in recording the news and personalities of our social and everyday life.

An almost record number of students subscribed to "The Broadcast" during its campaign early last fall. We promised larger and more interesting editions, and have fulfilled this during the past year. The first issue of "The Broadcast" was an exclusive election extra, containing the first tabulated results and pictures of the Senior election held on the previous day. There were also pictures of the victorious game with Salem, Johnnie Del Isola, Coach Gildea, and many cartoons in this issue, in addition to several new features and the latest news events.

Practically every edition of our newspaper has been of the same calibre—something new in every issue and practically every one consisting of six pages. Among the new features and ideas have been "Mlle. E. H. S.", a fashion section for Everett High young women; "The Linguist Column", containing a story in a foreign language, written by some student; "The College Bureau", containing information about institutions of higher learning; "Interviewing the Faculty", consisting of interviews with members of the faculty on timely subjects of interest to students; and many other equally interesting features.

"The Broadcast" assisted the Christmas Fund by selling copies of the paper during the drive. Full proceeds went toward the Fund.

Editor-in-chief ..... Herman Kramer, '34
Associate Editors ..... John J. Toomey, '34; Caro Grace, '35; Edwin Carolan, '35
Sporting Staff ..... William Cotter, '34; Harold Katz, '34; Henry Richards, '35; Charles Taylor, '35

Staff Typists ..... Hannah Allen, Nancy Butler, Lillian Cockcroft, Mary DeFillipo, Alfred Klaus, Bertha LeBlanc, Donald Lounsbury, Manual Priante

We of the '33-'34 staff thank all E. H. S. students and members of the faculty for their fine support, and hope our efforts in producing an A-1 year of Everett High journalism have succeeded.

SENIOR PLAY

"Anybody's Game"

On November 24, 1933, the class presented this unusually well-prepared and most entertaining play directed by Miss Myra Marshall and Miss Theodosia Clapp. Everyone enjoyed the complicated situations that the staff of the Delaney Office got themselves in and out of with varying degrees of ease.

Madelyn Kenny and John Toomey were excellent in the leading parts, and the work of the entire cast was really outstanding.

DEBATING GROUP

Thomas Lancian, '34—The prize debate of 1932 started "Wy" off on his successful three years of debating. "Wy" has never participated in a losing debate. He is a hard worker, and an outstanding and convincing speaker.

Stanton Brown, '34—Fine work in his main speech and in his exceptionally good rebuttal in the Revere debate, 1933, marked him as one of the Lyceum's most convincing and representative men.

Tolbert McLaughlin, '34—In his first attempt against Chelsea, he demonstrated rare ability and fine work, winning coveted laurels as best speaker. Good work in prize debate, 1933 and 1934.

David McAllister, '34—A fine speaker, and a former winner of the prize speaking contest; did excellent work in the Revere debate, 1932. Careful and conscientious clerk, 1932-1934.

William Dunlea, '34—Convincing and well delivered arguments in Lynn debate, 1933. Always a loyal, hard worker for the Lyceum.

William McLeod, '34—A recent find whose sterling work in both his main speech and rebuttal at Quincy, 1934, showed him to be one of our best speakers. Won laurels as best speaker at Quincy.

Harold Katz, '34—Did fine work in prize debate, 1933, and has real interest in public speaking.

William Toomey, '36—Whose smooth, carefully prepared and convincing speech earned him a vote as the best speaker in the Lynn debate, 1934. A loyal, hard worker who shows promise for future debates.

Gordon Emerson, '36—Another of our promising sophomores. A fine voice and pleasing personality, together with willingness to work, should make him a fine speaker.

LYCEUM

The Lyceum, the oldest organization in the high school, observed its fortieth anniversary this year by winning the two interscholastic debates in which it participated.

The first debate was with the debating team of Lynn Classical High School. The Lyceum representatives in this debate were Thomas Lancian, Reginald Cunningham and William Toomey. The subject debated was "Resolved, That the Hope of the World Lies in Democracy Rather Than in Dictatorship." The Everett debaters upheld the affirmative side of the question, and were declared the victors by a two-thirds vote of the judges.

In the Quincy-Everett debate, the Lyceum was represented by William McLeod, Gordon Emerson and Harold Oshry. The question was "Resolved, That the United States Should Adopt the Essential Features of the British Radio System." The Lyceum was also victorious in this debate, and William McLeod was voted the best speaker.

For the first time in history, the participants of the prize debate were all members of the Lyceum. The boys who participated in this debate were: Thomas Lancian, Gordon Emerson, William McLeod, Stanton Brown, Tolbert McLaughlin and William Toomey.

The Lyceum is proud, that besides carrying away two prizes in the prize speaking contest, its president, Thomas Lancian, won first prize in the Colby College Oratorical Contest, competing against 98 of the finest speakers from high schools and preparatory schools in New England.

Officers for the year are:

President	Thomas Lancian
Clerk	Nelson McCune
Treasurer	Stanton Brown

The Lyceum owes much of its success as a debating society to its moderator and advisor, Mr. John D. Coughlan, Jr., of the faculty.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club has enjoyed a pleasant and profitable year under the able guidance of our faculty advisor, Mrs. Brewer.

The officers elected for this year were:

President ..... Sam La Rosa
Vice-President ..... William Cotter
Treasurer ..... Howard Terry
Press Agent ..... William Fioretti

The special lectures on Spain and Spanish customs, as well as entertainments were heartily enjoyed by the club members.

Our Christmas Play, "Los Reyes Magos," was a huge success.

The club, as never before, has voted this year on having pins.

We seniors, with much regret, are leaving after an enjoyable year with the Spanish Club and hope the Juniors and other under-classmen will have the co-operation and great times that we had this year. This picture includes not only the present club members, but also the members of the past three years.

THE EVERETT HIGH SCHOOL CHEMISTRY ASSOCIATION

The Everett High School Chemistry Association has enjoyed another successful year under the splendid supervision of Mrs. Hazel W. Holt.

During the year the club members performed experiments on many different subjects, including indicators, the electrolysis of sodium sulphate, the solubility of hydrogen chloride, oxygen, digestion, and arsenic. Many of these programs were made possible through the co-operation of Dana Morley, former chairman of the Program Committee. Mr. Wendelstein also presented his illustrated lecture on the electron theory. Mrs. Holt gave a very interesting talk on drugs, discussing quinine in detail. A motion-picture on crystallization in colors was shown at one of the meetings.

The club visited the Merrimac Chemical, the Forbes Lithograph, and the Macalaster Bicknell Glass-blowing Companies. These trips proved most interesting and instructive. A project meeting at which the members etched on glass was enjoyed by all. Several issues of "The Chemistry Leaflet", the club paper, were issued with Lawrence DeVenuti as editor.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

Amateur radio is concerned primarily with station to station communication, either by voice or by use of telegraphic codes. Much of this conversation relates to experimental work although organized amateur radio has played a prominent part in emergency relief communication from devastated areas in times of disaster. Conversations for the most part, however, do not differ greatly from those which occur upon the meeting of two friends.

For these purposes the Federal Radio Commission has set apart certain bands of frequencies for exclusive amateur use.

It has been the purpose of the Radio Club to study the technical problems involved in the operation of an amateur station. To this end a number of members have presented technical talks before the club. Our faculty advisor, Mr. Seaverns, has conducted numerous discussions on theoretical electricity. Several meetings have been devoted to code lessons in an effort to aid some of the members in securing a license.

THE DRAMATIC CLASS

After repeated and insistent requests of many students, the Dramatic Class was organized in 1930 with Miss Clement, of the English Department, as director and advisor.

Few people question that it is profitable to spend a bit of the high school course in learning the difference between a good play and a bad play, since that difference is quite as important as that between a good book and a bad one. Everyone realizes that drama is an important branch of literature and that although much good and some great drama writing has been done since 1616.

"Marlowe is dead and Greene is in his grave,

Two public performances are given each year. One is presented at Christmas time, the proceeds of which are given to the poor of Everett; the other, the annual evening performance, the proceeds of which defray current expenses of material necessary for play production.

Among plays presented have been Booth Tarkington's "Clarence"; the historical play of the French Revolution, "The Black Flamingo"; the amusing farce, "What Happened to Jones"; the Christmas play, "Gilt Edged"; the Tercentenary offering, "The Bombardment of Boston"; Dickens' "A Christmas Carol"; the comedy, "A Wedding"; the farce, "Elmer"; and the tragedy, "Submerged."

Along with the regular studies and drills conducted each week as routine work the class enjoys many lectures. One of special interest this year was given by a high school teacher of dramatics from China who brought native costumes and gave a most entertaining description of her work in that country.

Members of the class have competed in two state contests, one at Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and this year at Emerson where two members brought special honors to our school.

The officers are as follows:

President ..... Warren Morang
Vice-President ..... John Uncles
Secretary ..... Ann Malcolm
Treasurer ..... Bruno Pierotti

The alumni of the Dramatic Class have made plans for starting a little theatre movement in the city. With more leisure time before us, everyone seems ready to declare "The play's the thing."

THE CLEMENTONIANS

In 1923, when our students left their Summer Street home and moved into a new building, they felt a bit lost in the strange surroundings and rather resented being known by numbers. Instead of the "Pupils of Room 113," they preferred to be called "The Clementonians," after their home room teacher, Miss Clement, and they adopted the slogan IMPOSSIBLE IS UN-CLEMENTONIAN.

For several years this group was very active with their weekly meetings and special programs. They took pride in the friendly room and were happy entertaining their guests there. Theatre parties and picnics were very popular. They issued a room paper called "The Clementonian," which is still published several times each year. They take pride in beautifying their room with class gifts, purchased with the proceeds of entertainments given in the Auditorium. They are proud of their successful alumni, three of whom are on the present faculty.

During the past two years, there has been less opportunity for social activity and they have been able to earn very little money for adding books to the Clementonian Shelf in the library. However, we are sure that the old spirit is still alive and with the returning prosperity, succeeding classes will prove that, truly, IMPOSSIBLE IS UN-CLEMENTONIAN.

The Girls' English Club has been part of a vigorous growth of the school life at Everett High for the past nineteen years. The present year has been no exception, and the present members have found it to be a very enjoyable extra-curricular activity.

The purpose of the Girls' English Club during the past year has been to lead the members of the club to a greater understanding and appreciation of the lives and writings of selected American authors. Under the direction of Miss Ethel M. Kelley, our faculty advisor, there have been presented a series of original dramatic sketches based on the lives of American ladies of literature. Moving pictures have been reviewed.

The members of the Girls' English Club on the eve of graduation, view the termination of their mutual activity with mingled joy and regret. From their associations they have derived many advantages; their knowledge has been increased, their friendships have grown and there has been fostered a deeper spirit of appreciation for and co-operation with the faculty.

To our faculty advisor, Miss Kelley, the members of the Girls' English Club wish to express their appreciation for her untiring efforts to increase in them a love for culture. Her devotion to the work of the Club and her encouragement and personal interest in the members as individuals will be long remembered.

The monthly socials throughout the school year have been a great source of pleasure. As the final and greatest of these socials approaches the members look forward eagerly to meeting the new members and hope that their club year will be as successful as ours has been.

WRITERS' CLUB

During 1933-34 the seventeen members of the Writers' Club, assisted by Mrs. Lawlor, have studied various types of writing including the editorial, the essay, poetry, the short story, and a new venture, the one act drama. They participated in club contests in these subjects as well as in the Scholastic Awards Contest in which Edward Grant won honorable mention in the interview division.

The winners in the club editorial contest were as follows: first prize, Herman Kramer; second prize, Edith Goldman. The other contests have not as yet been judged.

The fifth edition of the yearbook, "Scribbles", which contains the year's work of all members, was published.

The presiding officers are:

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB, 1934

The Girls' Glee Club, under the able direction of Miss Myra G. A. Marshall, has ended one more of its very successful musical years. The club is composed of thirty members with Lillian DePietro as its manager and Dorothy Slaney as pianist.

It has passed through this year most brilliantly, entertaining at Monday morning assemblies and at outside social affairs.

The Club's venture into dramatics turned out very well this year in the form of a clever and attractive musical comedy called "Sonia" in which Gertrude Grassa played the leading role.

This year as in former years, the Glee Club held their annual reunion on May 7 in the school gymnasium. The alumnae from Everett and surrounding cities came to learn of the Club's work and to enjoy a pleasant hour.

To bring the year to an eventful finish, a farewell dinner and theatre party was held.

THE ORCHESTRA

Under the supervision of Mr. De Vivo the Everett High School Orchestra has accomplished much. The group plays at civic entertainments, at school assemblies, and at the club activities.

It has contributed a great deal to the musical education of the pupils, since one of the purposes of the orchestra is to teach students the value of music.

It is the largest orchestra the school has ever had, and it has had a most successful year.

EVERETT MASS. HIGH SCHOOL BAND

BAND

The Everett High School Band was first organized in 1921 under the able guidance of Chester Whiting. This year it consists of sixty members which is the largest band in the history of the school. We feel certain that this group can hold its own against any high school band in New England due mainly to the untiring efforts of its director, Mr. DeVivo.

This year something unique in the band activities was presented at Rockwood Auditorium for the maintenance of the outfit. With the assistance of the E. H. S. orchestra ensemble they presented "Black Magic," an original play written by Ralph Emerson '26 in collaboration with John McLaughlin '30 and Ottavio DeVivo '24.

The band owes much of its success to Mr. Tobey who took part in many of its activities.

THE ADVISORY BOARD

This year our principal, Mr. Sanborn, in an attempt to bring about a closer bond between the faculty and the student body, initiated a new plan by which a student advisory board was created. This board which Mr. Sanborn refers to as his "kitchen cabinet" is made up of the presidents of each of the several senior home rooms, of which there are fourteen in all, and the four senior class officers.

The purpose of this group is to carry on all the business of the senior class with each member acting as an interpreter of the feelings and ideas of his particular home room.

Although this body has carried on all the business of the class, not once has any unpopular decision or plan been made. The meetings have been conducted by Edward Little, class president, while Mr. Sanborn usually has remained in the background as a silent spectator.

The 1934 advisory board consisted of the following members:

William Cotter, Secretary

William Romano
Joseph Schwerdt
Richard Curley
Tolbert McLaughlin
Edna Holden

Anne Malcolm
Ruth Boles
Mary Magee
Howard Lane
William Furness

Edward Little, Chairman

Douglas Stiles

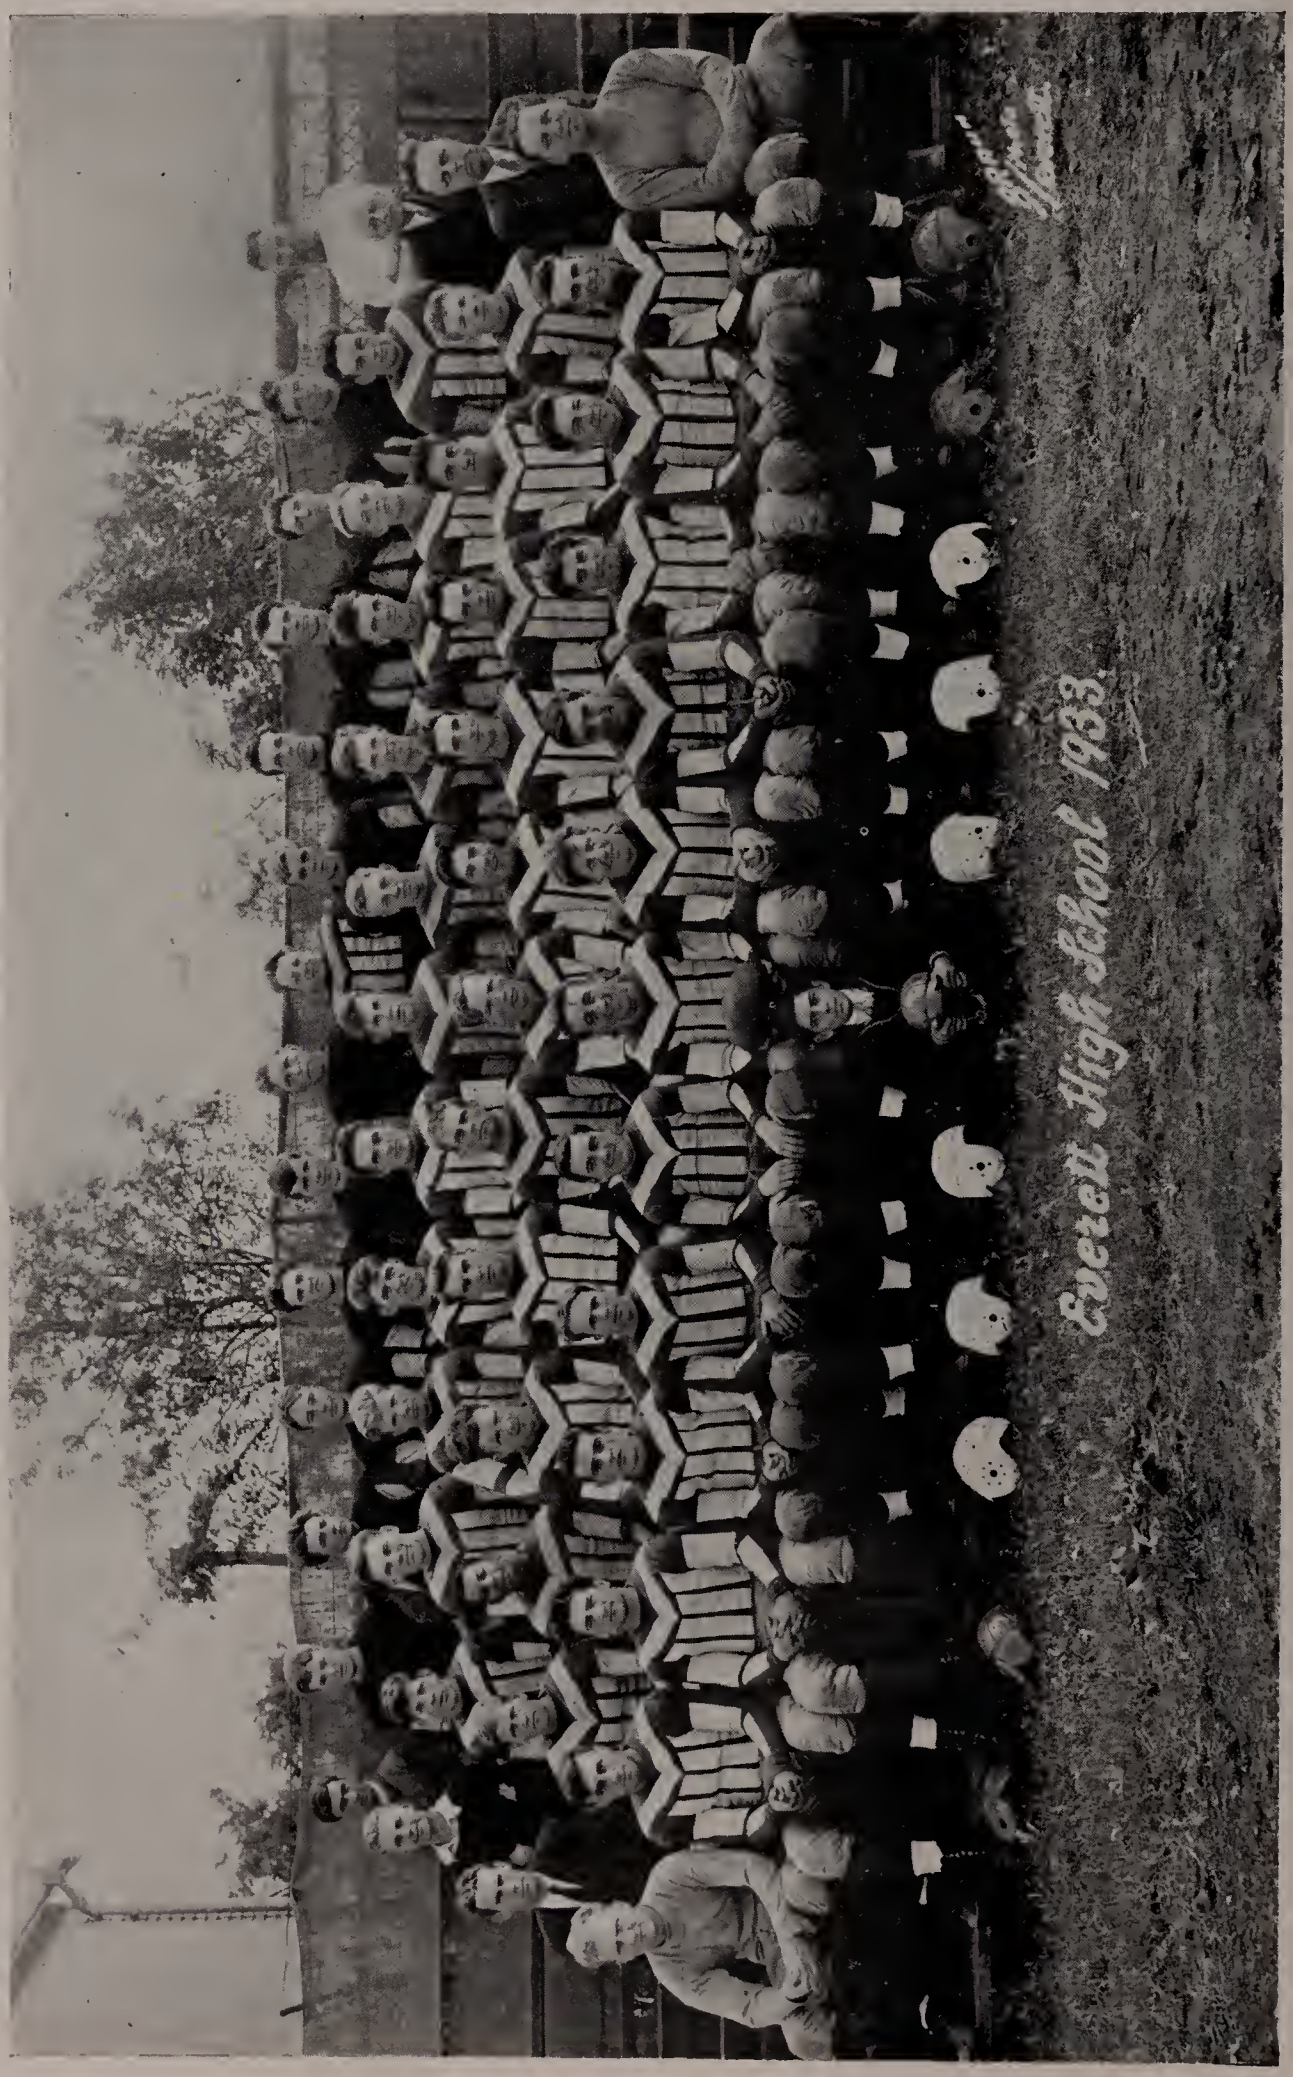
ATHLETICS



Everett High School 1933

FOOTBALL

Beginning with a group of inexperienced boys, Coach Gildea soon developed them into one of the strongest, most powerful teams ever to represent the E H. S. The team "clicked" with the accuracy of a machine, and was feared by every opponent on its schedule. The 1933 team had remarkable scoring ability, a strong defense, and an unconquerable spirit.

DENNIS GILDEA, Coach

True, this team was once defeated by the narrowest of margins—one solitary point marring an otherwise perfect record. But such are the fortunes of war.

Those of use who watched the team in action will always remember Joe Schwerdt at quarterback, John Rossetti, Art Raimo, and Nick Bellofatto at fullback, and Capt. Joe Pini, Jerry Johnson, Fred Walsh, Bill Romano, and Sam Gentile at halfback. On the line it would be difficult to find two better ends than Bill Piscione and Ed Little. We have had larger tackles than Furness and Mellon, but none smarter or scrappier. The guards, John Yahoodik and Peter Cavicchi, were steady and game, and our center, Ralph Freeman, captain-elect for 1934, played a remarkable game for a first-year center.

BASKETBALL

At the beginning of the 1933-34 season, Coach Putnam found himself confronted with the problem of developing a team from a large group of inexperienced players. After getting off to a slow start, the team gradually developed and made a creditable showing against the best teams not only of Greater Boston but of New Hampshire and Central Massachusetts as well.

Captain-elect Gentile was the high scorer of the team with 175 points. He was followed by Captain Schwerdt and Johnson with 113 and 87 points respectively.

BASEBALL

League baseball once again. As a result of playing independently since 1930, many teams found that the interest in baseball was at rock bottom. Consequently it was decided that league baseball alone would save the great high school sport. Therefore Everett has high hopes of being the first team to win the title in the new Greater Boston League, which is composed of the following high school teams: Malden, Medford, Somerville, Revere, Chelsea, and Everett.

As this book goes to press, it is the belief of Coach Gildea and Assistant Coach Silva that they have the nucleus for a good team. For pitchers there are Bellofatto, Underwood, and Sheppard, while Freeman will undoubtedly be on the receiving end. Other veterans of last year are Pavone at first base and Walsh at center field.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The squad consisted of sixty girls. Each player was assigned to a team and intra-mural games were played. From this group the varsity team which was undefeated and the second team were chosen.

Home and return games were played with Medford, Revere, Somerville, and Cambridge Latin.

The stars for the second team were Edythe Mason, Eleanor Legg, and Esther Connell.

TRACK

Although the schedule was not underway at the time this book went to press, all signs point to a successful season. This year it looks like a junior class affair, as most of the stellar performers come from that class.

Captain Piscione should have a great season in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Ritchie Underwood, in addition to topping the hurdles, will be a member of the mile relay team. In the half-mile we have Frank Mascianica. Frank is only a sophomore, but during this past winter he has scored many points in the 660. He should do well in the 880 yard run outdoors. Joe Ventura is listed for the 100 yard dash, while John Yahoodik will concentrate on the broad jump.

TENNIS

The E. H. S. tennis team under Mr. Collins' direction has come along fast and looks forward this spring to one of its most successful seasons. Three players, Stanton Brown, Mario Finamore, and Milton Chandler, have been regulars for the past two seasons. They have done the single work in that order while Charles Garabedian, Warren Demers, and David MacAllester have divided the fourth singles position and participated in the doubles. Because of the faithful work of the team during the past two or three years, they may be rewarded by an opportunity to enter the State Interscholastic Tennis Tournament this spring.

Those who will report for spring practice are as follows: Captain Stanton Brown, Mario Finamore, Warren Demers, Howard Terry, Charles Garabedian, Milton Chandler, Robert Burleigh, and David MacAllester.

What do you want to be doing six years from now? 1940 sounds like a long way off, but it will be here before you realize it. And what will it find you doing?

The answer depends on you. Your planning, your initiative and your ability are what will determine your success. Because I am so deeply interested in the possibilities of a business or secretarial training, may I have about half a minute of your time to tell you of some of the advantages?

In the first place, business men are demanding trained employees. Business is getting more and more complex and specialization is the keynote. The day of the Jack-of-all-trades is over. If you have a good training in accounting or shorthand, you have something definite to offer. These are only two of the special business subjects that Bryant & Stratton gives.

In the second place, when you get your job, the business training in subjects such as Salesmanship & Advertising, Business Letter Writing, Income Tax Returns, etc., enables you to advance more rapidly. The knowledge of these subjects is essential, and if you don't learn them in school you must get them by the longer and more costly method of experience.

You have received a good foundation at Everett High School, but it is not enough. Continue the good work you have started, and prepare for the success that you should be enjoying in 1940.

I would be very glad to have you come in to the school some time in the near future to talk the matter over, at which time I could show you the school building, and talk over possible courses.
